ALPSP Collections

Contains content from member publishers of ALPSP, the Association of Learned and Professional Society Publishers. In addition to ALPSP Complete, we also offer a range of ALPSP subject collections.

Independent and nonprofit publishers

Enjoy the publications of respected Societies and smaller publishers, whose driving force is spreading knowledge.

Focused subject collections

Stay in control and only subscribe to content that fit your needs. Our collections start from as little as five titles.

No embargo

Get full access to issues as soon as they are published; don't worry about missing the very latest research.

Single license

You will only need to sign one license agreement for all publications included in your collection.

Convenient customer service

If you have questions about Aggregagent or titles in your subscription, just contact us. We will handle your query.

High-quality titles and emerging journals

Our collections contain both top-ranked publications and emerging titles. You choose yourself how inclusive you want your collection to be.

Perpetual access to subscribed content

You will have perpetual access to years of content that you subscribe.

No platform fee

Delivery of content is straight from the publishers website, we do not charge any platform fees.

Single invoice

As we handle payment to each publisher, you will receive only one invoice covering all titles in your collection.

Centralized access set-up

Delivery of content is from the publishers website, we will assist on any set-up process.
